

Summer 2020 Internship Program

AAAPI Curatorial Internship

The BMA's Department of Africa, Asia, the Americas, and Pacific Islands is seeking a Graduate level Intern studying the historic art and material culture of the indigenous Americas. Preference will be given to candidates with specialization in pre-Columbian art.

This position is primarily research-focused. The Intern will work in the BMA's digital database, The Museum System (TMS), to catalog artworks, update object records, and enter notes from scholarly consultant reports. The Intern will have the chance to develop their connoisseurship of non-western art and work with a large collection of indigenous American art.

The Intern will be paid a stipend of up to $250 per week.

Application Requirements

- Cover Letter/Statement of Interest
- Current CV
- Academic Transcript (unofficial is acceptable)
- List of 3 references

Qualifications

- Must commit to working 21hrs/week for 8-12 weeks
- Research experience (digital, library, and archives)
- Strong writing skills
- Must be a Graduate level student. Please note that Undergraduate students will not be considered.

Apply

Please send all application materials and inquiries to internships@artbma.org by Sunday, March 15th.